

Compositions and Methods For Tumour Therapy

ABSTRACT

Compositions and methods are described that decrease or inhibit osteonectin activity in tumour cells, including cancer cells. The cells cease to be tumour-like, or become less tumour-like. Pharmaceutical composition and therapies based thereon are also described.